Bev Hepner has been with CES since 2004. She came on as a Finance Manager and has moved on to become CFO. Bev has a business and accounting degree and over 40 years experience handling business finances and tax preparation.

She is fully qualified for this monumental job in the energy industry at CES and is incidentally a black belt in Martial Arts two times over. These skills come in handy.

Tina started with CES in 2009 as a sales representative. From there she joined the Sales Admin team and then went on to Customer Service where she became the manager.

During this time she has earned an Associates Degree in Paralegal Studies which equipped her with the skills to transition into Human Resources where she today handles all of CES's regulatory and licensing matters. She also oversees the I.T. Department and ultimately has that team keep things of a computer nature up and running throughout the company.

Diana Sipple has been with CES since 2003. Not only does she oversee the entire CES sales support team, she is also over all the data processing, leads management, reports, and data transfer for the company. Diana and her team are often referred to as the "brain" of the operation.

Her goal is to make sure CES clients, sales reps, managers, and executives have all they need in order to make the sales process run smoothly and productively.

Andrew came to us in 2008 and joined our team of trainers. Over the years he has risen to the top dog position
