Lauren Wicks is a freelance writer and editor who covers all things lifestyle and luxury, with an emphasis on interior design and travel. Lauren began her career in lifestyle journalism as a Dotdash Meredith digital editorial fellow with Cooking Light, then worked as a digital editor for EatingWell and VERANDA before venturing out on her own in 2022. She has been writing for nationally renowned lifestyle publications for six years and has also written for several U.K.-based travel and interior design brands. Lauren lives in Birmingham, Alabama with her husband and son and enjoys experimenting in the kitchen, traveling, and spending time outdoors with her family in her free time.

Discover our not-so-secret sources for snagging the internet's most beautiful home decor.

1st Dibs is the ultimate online destination for those seeking a piece that will bring a "wow factor" to any room in the house. From covet-worthy antique sculptures to Art Deco lighting and contemporary art, there's something here for the collector in all of us.

The beloved New York-based home and restaurant brand has a fantastic online outpost for those of us living outside the city. It's a favorite destination of ours for discovering rugs from around the globe, and ABC Carpet & Home is also known for its bohemian-inspired textiles and colorful entertaining pieces that will bring some vibrancy to any space.

Alchemy Fine Home is a great source to have when seeking an assortment of home decor items from the world's top luxury brands and the country's best designers. This is a great pick for those who love mid-century modern, contemporary, and traditional aesthetics.

Our editors lean on Artemest for its unique collection of luxe housewares, all of which are rooted in Italian craftsmanship. Peruse the site to discover your new favorite Venetian, Milanese, or Florentine artisan that is sure to inspire your next great collector's trip abroad.

With names like Beth Webb, Celerie Kemble, and Laura Kirar designing collections for the brand, it won't take much to convince you that Arteriors is a top home decor destination to know. The brand's wide range of pieces are designed to become future heirlooms, making them well worth the investment.

While its brick and mortar location just might be the most beautiful store in London, Bonadea's online shop will do the trick if you can't get across the pond. Founded by the fabulous Gemma Martinez d'Ana, it's one of our favorite resources for entertaining and stumbling upon objets d'art you won't find anywhere else.

The Palm Beach-based brand is a staff favorite for sourcing impeccable antiques, art, and Casa Gusto's signature papier-mâché and tole botanicals. Operated by a tastemaking mother-sons trio, this family-run business is always sure to please collectors.

The demand for vintage and secondhand furniture has skyrocketed in the last few years as concerns over supply chain issues and the environment have caused more of us to rethink the way we shop. Enter Chairish, one of our favorite digital destinations for all things vintage, plus some modern finds from other editor-adored lines (such as Fleur Home, shown here).
