Access the onlineebill.pk official website and ensure you have your essential 14-digit reference number ready for obtaining your billing detail. You can find this 12-digit number on your electric bill, typically located in a designated box, often situated in the lower corner of the bill.

Visit the official website, onlineebill.pk your 14-digit reference number or 10-digit consumer ID to check your bill quickly, then open your full bill the with view full bill button, and then you can download your IESCO or other service bill for free.

To figure out how much electricity you've used, you can follow these simple steps:

For example, if you have a 100-watt light bulb that's on for 5 hours, the calculation would look like this:

$100 \text{ watts} \times 5 \text{ hours} = 500 \text{ watt-hours}$   $500 \text{ watt-hours} \div 1000 = 0.5 \text{ units consumed}$

So, in this example, you've used 0.5 units of electricity.

Installments can't be used for the current bill. However, if you owe money for electricity from previous bills, you can pay in installments. You might be charged interest at the current bank rates when you choose to pay in installments.

For regular connections, if you owe up to Rs. 2,000, the SDO can allow up to three monthly installments. If the arrears are up to Rs. 10,000, the XEN can allow up to three monthly installments. When the arrears reach Rs. 100,000, the SE can allow up to four monthly installments. The CEO can approve up to six monthly installments.
