I needed a replacement end cap for the original awning on my 28-year old Chinook RV. After unsuccessfully spending much time looking elsewhere for this part, I came across Nomadic Supply, who very quickly provided the exact part needed with little effort on my part. I highly recommend them.

Nomadic Supply Company is amazing. The service and communication I received was best described as impeccable. Jessie was incredibly nice, knowledgeable and helpful. I wish all companies had the personal touch like Nomadic Supply.

I was shopping for parts to save cost on a replacement Coleman Mach Quiet Series air conditioner. The real surprise came initially from the cost which was the lowest amongst the trusted competitors. The second surprise was from the method of order and delivery which was directly from the manufacturer to my home. The part arrived earlier than anyone else was able to guarantee even though Nomadic made no promises. I was very nervous the day after placing the order because I knew nothing about Nomadic. I messaged their customer support regarding some of my fears and they responded quickly with assurances that all would be handled professionally and that they would be responsive if anything went wrong. Great news... and nothing went wrong. I will be back to buy from them again.
