KFC, or otherwise known as Kentucky Fried Chicken is a fast food restaurant that specializes in fried chicken. KFC offers many classic chicken meals such as Colonel's Classic, Chicken Littles, and Family Meals that include a mix variety of chicken wings and drumsticks.

In addition to fried chicken, KFC has moved into offering healthier alternatives such as grilled chicken. Because of this, KFC menu prices generally tend to be a bit more expensive than an average fast food restaurant. But make no mistake, even though they are offering healthier grilled chicken meals, KFC still has the famous fried chicken that everyone loves.

Below are the latest KFC menu prices.

KFC was founded in 1930 in North Corbin, Kentucky, by the man who would become the face of the company, Harland Sanders. He became a huge hit in a few short years and was given the highest title of honor in Kentucky -- Kentucky colonel. Since then he is always known as Colonel Sanders.

Today, KFC is headquartered in Louisville, Kentucky, and it has nearly 19,000 locations in over 120 countries worldwide. It is the second largest fast food restaurant in sales after McDonalds. Although KFC prices are above the industry average, it has expanded its menu to include value items such as the Chicken Little sandwiches.

KFC closes at 9:30 p.m. or 10 p.m., depending on the location. Hours of operation can vary throughout the country, though so it's always a good idea to verify with your local restaurant.

KFC was started in 1952 by the one and only Colonel Harland Sanders. Colonel Sanders was a businessman turned chef who started the fried chicken business from the ground up. It wasn't until the mid-seventies that people began to recognize him as the face of KFC.

KFC is more expensive than other fast food restaurants because of the high demand and because they offer
